Daniel Brodhead, Sec. Gen.

Francis Johnston, Reg. Gen. } of the Land office.

The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 17th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds poll, obtained patents for two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in pursuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.

Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collins or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next, to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

POST-OFFICE.

Philadelphia, August 24, 1799.

THE Public are requeſted to take notice that the Poſt-Office will be removed to Market Street the fourth houſe above Eleventh Street, on the north ſide of the way, this afternoon at half paſt Six o'clock, where merchants and others are requeſted to ſend for their letters, &c. as the Letter Carriers will not during the preſent calamity carry letters out after that time.

SPECULATION.

TO BE SOLD,

AT Public Vendue, on Monday the 23d of September next, at 2 o'clock, P. M. at the houſe of the Subſcriber, living in the town of New-Caſtle, State of Delaware, a number of valuable ſuitable for building on, being the South ſquare of the flouriſhing town of New-Caſtle aforeſaid, diſtant from Philadelphia thirty-three miles.

This valuable property is highly capable of improvement, being immediately on the river Delaware, having a number of wharf lots on it; and from the depth of the water (earth and materials for wharfing being eaſily procured) there is no doubt but wharves would bring a handſome intereſt.

This property conſiſts of five acres more or leſs, in one body; lays high, and is divided into lots to ſuit every deſcription of perſons.—New-Caſtle is one of the moſt healthy and flouriſhing towns on the continent; and from the increaſe of trade it has raiſed property to four times the value it was ſeven years paſt—The number of veſſels bound out and in, which ſtop for ſupplies of ſtock, &c. &c. and the whole carriage of goods between Philadelphia and Baltimore, is now through this place. The packets and ſtages from the aforeſaid cities, &c. &c. make it very lively: there is not, at this time, one houſe to be rented in the place; and the number of applications for houſes make it an object for perſons to improve. There are a number of elegant and uſeful buildings now going on, a Public Academy and ſeveral private Schools. The malignant Fever has never made any progreſs, and the Ague ſcarcely known; the number of children in this place is a convincing proof of the healthineſs of it. The proſpect of the river Delawrre, up and down is delightful; as far as the eye can diſtinguiſh you may view the veſſels in different attitudes. There is reaſon to ſuppoſe that public piers for the Navy will be built here, as veſſels can ſail from this place when the river is faſt at Philadelphia.

The conditions of ſale will be eaſy and made known on the day of ſale. Places of public worſhip, market and mills are very contiguous.

JOHN DARRAGH.

N. B.—A plat of the above will be exhibited any time previous, as well as on the day of ſale.

LONDON.

From the London Chronicle of June 13.

The firſt victory of the Imperial army, under Field Marſhal Suwarrow was on the 15th ultimo. celebrated at Peterſburgh by a ſolemn Te Deum. On this occaſion the Emperor gave a ſignal mark of honour to that brave officer, by ordering Suwarrow's to be mentioned in the prayer of thankſgiving. Never has ſo much honour been ſhewn to the chief of an army. Prayers were offered up to God to bleſs the arms of the combined armies and Field Marſhal Suwarrow, who commands them. Divine ſervice being over, the ſon of the Field Marſhal, a youth of 16, charmed with the honour done to his father, waited upon the Emperor, embraced his knees, and thanked him with the moſt heartfelt emotion The Monarch, charmed with the ſentiments of this youth, aſked him, if he ſhould not like to travel to his father? "It is the moſt fervent of my wiſhes," joyfully replied the youth. "Then depart," continued the Emperor, "you appear to be worthy of ſuch a father." This young nobleman actually ſet out for Italy on the 27th ult.

Extract of a letter from Plymouth, June 10.

"Yeſterday evening arrived in the ſound, a very handſome French privateer, called the Venus, of Rochelle, pierced for 18 guns, but having only 14 mounted, with 102 men, captured the 31ſt ult. off Cape Finiſterre, by his Majeſty's ſhip Indefatigable of 38 guns, hon. capt. Curzon: ſhe is quite new, on her firſt cruiſe, and had been from Rochelle about ſix weeks, in which time ſhe captured four neutral veſſels, and the Clarence ſchooner, of London, bound from Liſbon to London, laden with rum, and other merchandize."

Other ſymptoms of Commotion in France

Paris, according to accounts received during the week through various channels of high reſpectability, to which much credit is attached, is in a ſtate of ſerious agitation and fermont. The Anti-Directorial party has acquired ſtrength and confidence from the recent diſaſters ſuſtained by the army of Republic in Italy and on the Rhine. The advocates of Government demand that the the people await with patience the operations of their Fleet, from which ſome ſplendid atchievement is promiſed; on the iſſue of this enterpriſe the exiſtence of the preſent tyranny depends. Deſerters from the army in great numbers flock to all parts of the Republic, and carry with them terror and diſmay. To palliate their deſertion, they repreſent the ſituation of affairs more deſperate than it is; and the ſilence of the Government giving a degree of warranty to their ſtatements, a general panic pervades the country to ſuch extent, in fact, that early in the preſent month it was generally believed in Paris, that the entire of Italy was in the hands of the Allies. We truſt, the perſevering gallantry of the Imperialiſts will ſhortly realize thoſe fears, and give tranquility to Europe.

Of the Interior of the Batavian Republic.

A Gentleman recently arrived in London from Holland repreſents the ſituation of that country as being deplorable almoſt beyond conception. After innumerable and grievous exactions, a duty was ſome time ſince impoſed on capital, at the rate of one penny in eighty; this was ſucceeded in the courſe of two months by another at a ſtill higher ratio; income was then ſubjected to a tax of 5l per cent, and ſoon after to another of 10l. per cent. Theſe duties are enforced with rigor, and the produce, or the greater part of it, is ſent to France. Agriculture is neglected, the dykes are in decay, trade and manufactuaes almoſt wholly ſuſpended, and commerce totally annihilated. The ſuperior orders, and in truth, the great majority of the people, are anxious for the reſtoration of the Stadtholderate, being thoroughly ſickened of Gallic fraternity and liberty.

☞ THOSE Citizens who have removed with their families from the city, and thoſe who are about removing, are earneſtly requeſted to adopt immediate meaſures to have their Fire-Buckets depoſited either at the City Hall, the old Court Houſe corner of Market and Second ſtreets, or in the new building at the South end of Second ſtreet market adjoining South ſtreet; and in caſe of fire, a perſon will be employed to collect and return them to the above places. It certainly is unneceſſary to ſtate the extreme danger the city will be expoſed to, ſhould a fire take place when, the inhabitants are chiefly fled and their Buckets not to be obtained. Particular attention ſhould be likewiſe paid that no domeſtic animals or putrifying ſubſtances of any kind be locked up in the houſes or yards of thoſe who have removed or are about to remove.

The printers will oblige the public by inſerting the above recommendation in their papers for few times.

A correſpondent ſuggeſts to the Board of Health the propriety of directing the Drivers of the ſick-carriages to proceed with the ſick on their way to the Hoſpital directly along one ſtreet at leaſt as far as Broad ſtreet—They are in the habit of making one or two ſtreets the thoroughfare for the paſſage of all the ſick; a practice which is not only particularly diſtreſſing to the Inhabitants of thoſe ſtreets, but ſubjects them to an unequal riſque.

Mr. Fenno,

THERE is a whining, drivelling fellow near me in Front-ſtreet, who is as inceſſantly bawling about his "reſpectability", as an old Bawd about her honeſty. This animal's merit and dignity of character, are, it ſeems, ſo exalted and paramount as to excite the general "ENVY" of mankind,—this Envy ſhewing itſelf towards the ſaid Mr. Reſpectability, in the moſt "low and pitiful arts." As that muſt be rather an odd ſort of "reſpectability", which is thus continually obliged to defend itſelf, (whether againſt the envy, or the juſt indignation of an inſulted community, the public will determine) it may not be amiſs to inform this pompous ideot, that his reſpectability or his contemptibility was probably never once taken into conſideration by the Board of Health, and that the "low and pitiful-arts" of which he accuſes them, extended no farther than to the publication of a ſtatement, undeceiving the Public with regard to a groſs impoſition and falſehood impudently palmed upon them.

As the evidences of the Impoſture are before the Public, they are left without animadverſion to form their own opinion upon the vulgar ſcurrility and ſtupid abuſe heaped upon a meritorious Public body, who are daily expoſing their lives for the good of their fellow-citizens.

APPROACHING ELECTION.

No. V.

To the Electors of Pennsylvania.

The next charge which the Election Committee attempts to repel, is that which accuses Mr. M'Kean of aristocratical principles, and of contempt for the poor. "Strange inconsistency of party credulity and passion," exclaims Mr. Dallas. "A Jacobin and an Aristocrat at the same time"! And do the Committee then really believe that jacobinism and aristocracy are thus diametrically opposed? Have arrogance and meanness never been united? May not the same man as basely fawn upon his superiors, as he haughtily spurns away those whom fortune has placed beneath him? Are there no instances to be found, in the history of mankind, of traitors who, under the mask of friendship for the mob when flattering their prejudices and cringing to their passions, have built their own aggrandizement on the ruins of their country? Was not Cataline an Aristocrat, and will it be said that he was not a Jacobin? Cromwell, D'Orleans, Robespierre and Marat, as well as Mr. M'Kean, declared themselves the lovers of liberty and the people, and yet they surely like him aimed at nothing less than the establishment and maintenance of a government truly and substantially free.

I observed in a former number the office which Mr. M'Kean fills does not in its nature afford us many opportunities of discovering the character of him who holds it. Confined to the beaten track of authoritative precedent, if a judge possesses a competent share of legal knowledge; if his character be not of a nature uncommonly violent, his heart viciously corrupt, or his temper conspicuously intolerant and tyrannical, it is difficult to conceive how he should furnish matter for serious accusation. Indeed I have frequently been astonished at perceiving that so much had occurred in the conduct of this gentleman to gratify "the tempers of the envious and the malevolence of party men." The proofs of his total disregard for the liberties of the people to be drawn from his behaviour on the bench, I shall however reserve for future discussion, only observing that in all instances (excepting those perhaps wherein some principle has been involved, tending to the support of the Federal administration,) he has shewn himself the decided friend to a high-toned system of government.

In the convention which formed the state constitution, his ideas were more fully developed. He there distinguished himself by his loquacious vehemence in favor of monarchical doctrines in a degree infinitely greater than any of those who are now branded with the epithets of "high-flying aristocrats." Unfortunately his speeches were not preserved, and we are compelled to resort to the minutes of the convention as the only authentic source of information.

He voted that the number of representatives should never exceed the number of one hundred, instead of one hundred and twenty, the number proposed by Mr. Gallatin.—Min. Committee of the whole—p. 19.

It was argued by Mr. Gallatin and his associates, that large bodies of men are less liable to corruption, are animated by a more enthusiastic love of liberty, and are therefore less disposed to barter away the rights of the citizen than those which are smaller. Nevertheless Mr. M'Kean was in favour of the least number mentioned. He voted that the Senators should be apportioned between the several districts of the state, in a ratio, composed of the number of taxables in, and the quota of state taxes assessed upon each district, estimating the total amount of the state taxation, and the whole number of taxable inhabitants as equal to each other.—Min. Committee. p. 26.

Thus, in his opinion, the senators ought to have represented not only persons but wealth; for those districts which possess most wealth pay the largest quota of taxes, and as the senators were to have been apportioned, between the districts, not only according to the number of persons, but in a compound ratio consisting of the number of inhabitants in each district, and the quantum of taxes paid by it; the more opulent counties would have sent so large a part of the senators as to have completely controuled the proceedings of the legislature. The western counties who pay but a small portion of the state taxes, would have been completely ousted of their weight in the scale of legislation. For this attempt they will no doubt acknowledge their obligations to him at the election.

He voted that the supreme executive power should be placed in the hands of a governor alone, and against its being vested in a governor and council. Min. Committee, p. 39.

It has been a maxim strenuously supported by the democratic republicans, that the executive power ought not to be concentrated in one man, but diluted and weakened by being vested in several. They have supposed that the ambitious will always endeavour to aggrandize themselves, when entrusted with powerful prerogatives, and that some controuling check was necessary, in order to frustrate the execution of such liberticide designs. But Mr. M'Kean thought otherwise.

He voted against a resolution proposed by Mr. Pickering, "that estates tail are repugnant to the principles of republican government, and shall not be supported."—Min. Comm. p. 90.

The great aristocratical houses of Europe are maintained in their splendour only in consequence of their estates constantly descending to one branch of their families. Their wealth cannot be dissipated, and therefore the influence which it always creates, is hereditary. The division of property among the descendants of its rich possessor, alone serves to reduce them to a level with their fellow-citizens; hince the children of the man who had himself rioted in all the extravagance of enervating luxury, are compelled to embrace the same pursuits with the rest of the people. As however the destruction of estates tail involved a principle truly republican, the democratic Chief Justice could not agree to it.

He voted against a motion made by Mr. Ross for preventing officers of the Federal Government from holding offices under the State Constitution.—Min. State Convention. p. 85.—So that by uniting the different offices of the two governments in the same men, he would have suffered the influence of the administration of the United States to have directed the measures of this state. It is impossible to believe that he, who held an office during the pleasure of the Executive of the Union, would have dared to displease him by his conduct as a state officer; and therefore the same spring which directed the operations of the nation at large, might have been equally powerful in Pennsylvania. Not only would the patronage of the President by this substantial increase of his power, have been greatly augmented; but the anti-republic n principal of consolidation in fact, introduced; for this principle is nothing more than the amalgamating the two governments one into the other. Mr. Ross then was here the republican and Mr. M'Kean the aristocrat.

He voed against that part of the constitution, which prescribes, that on indictments for libels the truth of the facts stated in them may be given in evidence on the general issue. Min. Con. p 92.

A warm debate was excited in the Convention on this subject, in which Mr M'Kean took a part as active as it was inefficient.

Always oppoled to the real liberty of the people he was of course hostile to this, their most important prerogative.

If there be a right essential to the existence of freedom, it is that which permits a free public discussion of men and measures, and although truths may sometimes be published improper for the public eye, because indecent in themselves, or unconnected with the public welfare, yet this inconvenience is far more tolerable than a subjection of the propriety of the publication to the arbitrary discretion of a Judge. When the promulgation of truth is declared to constitute no legal offence, a criterion is at once fixed by which to determine the nature of the doctrine of libels; and the citizen, conscious that he is guilty of no falshood, securely relies on the protection of the laws. If this grand bulwark of our rights had not been constitutionally established, even the follies and the crimes of Mr. M'Kean would probably at this important moment, have been passed over uncensured and unknown; for who would have dared to rely on the discretion of the Chief Justice as to what matters were proper for the public eye, in a case where his own passions would be the rule of his decision, and his own resentment the measure of the punishment. If courts of justice were always composed of Mansfields or Ellsworths, we might indeed be unsuspicious of their ability to discover what was right, or of their integrity steadily to pursue it; but since such men as a Jeffries and a M'Kean have presided on the Bench, the entrenchments of the real liberty of the press ought to be built of the strongest materials, or the citizen will be tyrannically trampled under foot by the shameless instruments of legal intolerance.

It was moved by the republican candidate, that no person should be capable of being chosen a Senator, who was not seized of five hundred acres of land within this Commonwealth, or possessed of real or personal estate to the value of five hundred pounds. Min. Con. p. 171. It was doubtless by reason of the opinion which the Committee acknowledge him to entertain "that as the poor are more exposed to temptation than the rich, therefore they are more vicious", that he thought it proper to make wealth one of the most necessary qualifications to office.

He seconded the motion for making it necessary to the election of a Governor, "that he should be legally seized and possessed of a clear real and personal estate, to the value of four thousand Dollars six months before his election." The same motive and the same views must have here actuated him.—Min. Con. p 152.

He moved that the senators should be chosen by Electors, and not by the people at large.—Min. Con. p. 166.

This proposition created a longer and more animated debate, than any which took place in the convention. All the old constitutionalists who are the present republicans, most violently opposed it. They declared it to be inconsistent with the liberty of the citizen, since it deprived, or at least abridged him of the right of suffrage itself, by removing one of the legislative bodies farther from the people, by making the senate less dependant on their will; it was said an aristocratical body would be created who would be regardless not only of the wishes, but even of the interests of their ultimate constituents. Nevertheless of this principle was the republican Mr. M'Kean the mover and the most zealous supporter.

Thus then in every instance, was he the opponent of those doctrines which were then deemed by his present advocates, to be most truly congenial to democratic Republicanism, nor is there to be found upon the most attentive research, a single vote made by him, against those parts of the constitution which most tend to royalty and aristocracy.

Let it not be supposed, that I mean to inculpate the whole of his conduct during the sitting of the Convention. I well know that he found among his coadjutors on many occasions, the most illustrous men whom Pennsylvania has ever seen in her councils, and I sincerely regret that some of his propositions were not adopted, but it must be recollected that I am one of those whom Mr. M'Kean and his adherents stigmatise with the reproach of being animated by aristocratical motives, and governed by monarchical views. Still however his notions of the policy of vesting great energy and strength in Government, far exceeded those of his former associates, nor can it be believed that he has abandoned his principles for a longer period than is necessary for the gratification of his pride, and the success of ambition.

It is well worthy of observation that Mr. Ross on the other hand, on all party questions, maintained the noble independence of his character. To the arbitary ideas of the Chief Justice he was a vigorous and generally a successful opponent. The one while yet a youth, with the Eagle eye of an experienced statesman, saw the true interests of his country, and since, though placed in a most tempestuous scene of factious uproar, with the firmness of a rock, has steadily maintained them; while the other, grown grey in the study of jurisprudence, has always been tossed about by the hurricane of his own passions and caprice, has been the sport of every wind, and an apostate from every party.

BALTIMORE, August 26.

The particulars of the horrid murder, an account of which we published in the Gazette of Saturday, so far as we have been able to ascertain, are as follow—The young man murdered, supposed a Frenchman, is a Mr. George Mellinger, of this city, about 25 years of age, who was on his way to the house of a friend in the country, when he was attacked and received several wounds on his head, his neck cut round to the bone, and one of his eyes forced from its socket; 25 dollars were taken out of his pocket, and a changeable color, middle sized umbrella taken away; several buttons were torn from his waistcoat, all which are evident marks of the greatest violence.

Mr. Lightner, living in Old-Town, will give 50 dollars for any information that may lead to a discovery of the perpetrators of this inhuman act, and no doubt society in general will exert themselves to bring these villains to condign punishment.

Postscript.

Last evening, half past 9, we called on Gabriel Furman, Esq. Chairman of the Health Commissioners, and received the agreeable information, that during the 24 hours preceding, only two new Cases of Fever had been reported at the office—one in Front-street, between Coenties and the Old slip the other, in Jmes street; ——and that only 2 Deaths had been reported---one, a Mr. Jenkins, from Carolina, the other, a Mr. M'Knab, mahogony sawyer—both in the upper part of Greenwich-street. This information may be implicitly relied on.

Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,
FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE
JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,
FROM THE COMMENCEMENT
Of the American War, in 1774, to the preſent time,
INCLUDING
The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now firſt permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat tipe, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in ſize, paper, and binding, will be obſerved throughout the work; ſo that, while the ſubſcribers become poſſeſſed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to ſubſcribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but, as the publiſher does not intend to print manmore than the number ſubſcribed for, a conſiderable riſe on the price may be expected to non-ſubſcribers.

Each volume will contain about one third leſs of letter-preſs than the original edition; but, as the publiſher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot aſcertain the number of volumes which will compriſe the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subſcribers will have it at their option, either to ſubſcribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the preſent time, or to thoſe only of the Old Congreſs prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are loſt in darkneſs and obſcurity, owing to a careleſsneſs, in the ſucceeding generation, to preſerve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in thoſe rude ages, being called off from their domeſtic concerns, to engage in wars and conqueſt. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been tranſmitted to our days? Time, that deſtroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almoſt ineſtimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their aſſiſtance in tranſmitting to poſterity the labours of their anceſtors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will ſhow the ſupport it has already acquired:

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the ſhort and pleaſant road of Buſſleton, Newtown, Scotch-Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populouſneſs of the country through which it paſſes, with ſundry other advantages, which render it ſo far preferable to the Old Road through Briſtol, Brunſwick, &c. long ago ſuggeſted the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the preſent year, a minute ſurvey of it has been taken, and its ſuperiority over the Old Road, both in winter and ſummer, has been clearly aſcertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the croſſing is performed with great ſafety and in leſs than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is ſeveral miles ſhorter than the old road, but this is amongſt the leaſt of its advantages, becauſe daily experience proves to us, that diſpatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodneſs of the road and the levelneſs of the country, and, in theſe reſpects, the New Road is, beyond all compariſon, the beſt. It preſents none of thoſe rocky hills, which render the Old Road ſo fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The ſoil, too, for the greater part, is ſuch as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little duſt in ſummer, which circumſtance, added to the beauty of the country, and a conſiderable proportion of ſhade, muſt always render travelling in the latter ſeaſon peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure ſtarts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, oppoſite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth ſtreet It goes through Frankford to Buſſleton, where it ſtops to Breakfaſt; from Buſſletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millſtone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to Lodge. The next morning it ſtops at Springfield to breakfaſt, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it ſtarts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For ſeats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee houſe, to A. Mathieu, corner of Naſſau and John ſtreets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich ſtreet, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad ſtreet.

Fare for paſſengers, Five Dollars.
Way paſſengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each paſſenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a paſſenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With reſpect to packages ſent on without paſſengers, the proprietors preſume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of ſtages, they think muſt meet with general approbation. They pledge themſelves to make good every package on the following conditions. The perſon who delivers the package at the office ſhall ſee it entered in the ſtage-book, for which entry he ſhall pay 6 cents; he will then ſtate the value of the package, and pay (excluſive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as inſurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for inſtance, if he eſtimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar inſurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few perſons it is preſumed, will diſlike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himſelf of this ſecurity or not. But the proprietors think it right to ſtate very expliſitly, that they will be reſponſible for the ſafe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an inſurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the diſtribution of the route, the greateſt care has bren taken to fix on ſuch places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the paſſengers at the moſt reaſonable rates. The ſtages are well equipped furniſhed with fleet and ſteady horſes, and committed to the care of intelligent ſober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themſelves live at the different towns and villages where the ſtages will ſtop, ſo that the conduct of the perſons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care alſo to ſee that the paſſengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no ſort of chicanery or inſolence is practiſed upon them; in ſhort, they have ſpared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very beſt line of ſtages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every paſſenger has found the road to ſurpaſs very far all that has been ſaid of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviour of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns ſpoken of with the higheſt ſatisfaction.

AT a meeting of the viſitors and governors of St. John's college in the State of Maryland, on the 13th day of July 1799,

Reſolved, That on the firſt day of October next, this board will proceed to elect a Profeſſor of Engliſh and Grammar, who ſhall receive, for his ſervices, at the rate of £200 per annum, to be paid quarterly; and that public notice thereof be given, &c. &c, Teſt, A. C. HANSON.

N. B. The office aforeſaid hath juſt become vacant, by the reſignation of a gentleman, whoſe affairs require the immediate undertaking of a voyage by ſea.

It is the duty of the ſaid Profeſſor (to whom is allowed an aſſiſtant) to teach the Engliſh language grammatically, and to prepare ſtudents for a ſuperior ſchool, by teaching them the Latin grammar, the Vocabulary, and Cordery. Writing is to be taught to all his ſcholars at ſtated hours; and to thoſe ſtudents who are not deſtined for the ſuperior ſchool, are to be taught, at the diſcretion of their parents, or guardians, Arithmetic, and other branches of ſcience uſually taught in Engliſh ſchools—A complete knowledge then of Latin, Arithmetic, &c. is conſidered indiſpenſible in the profeſſor; and it is expected, that candidates who are not known to the Board, will ſubmit to an examination, as well as produce ſatisfactory teſtimonials of their good morals, and fair characters.

The Printers within the United States are requeſted to inſert in their papers the foregoing reſolution and remarks, and to repeat the publication, as often as convenience will admit, until the 20th day of September next.
